1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-5 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Mussen. Mussen discloses the claimed structure including a coupler with a first component and a second component, the second component including a protrusion to prevent the first component from turning relative to the second component. Note that the intended use of coupling sections of a paddle together has been given limited weight because intended use defines no patentable structure. The structure disclosed by Mussen is capable of being used for a paddle.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 6-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mussen in view of Chang. Mussen does not disclose a rectangular key and keyway. Cheng teaches a rectangular key 21 and keyway 15. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the device of Mussen with rectangular keys and keyways as taught by Cheng for a coupling without the potential dangers of a suddenly collapsed joint.

5. Claims 12-26 allowed.
6. Claims 10 and 11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-9 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
